Access to Busan

Travelers from many Asian countries may be able to book a flight directly to Busan's Gimhae International Airport. For those who cannot fly directly to Gimhae, flying to Busan will likely involve arrival at Incheon and bus transport to Gimpo Airport to board a domestic flight to Busan. Some travelers may find it more convenient to fly into Incheon and then travel to Busan by high-speed train (KTX) or by express bus.

Most flights to Korea are through Incheon International Airport (ICN), located about an hour from Central Seoul. From Incheon International Airport there are three ways to get to Busan: Plane, KTX high-speed train, and Limousine Bus
